Cool Math Games is operated by Coolmath LLC and first went online in 1997 with the slogan: "Where logic & thinking meets fun & games." [2][3][4][5] The site maintains a policy that it will only host games that the operators believe are non-violent and educational and is partnered with coolmath.com and coolmath4kids.com.[4][2] In November 2019, Popular Mechanics listed Cool Math Games as one of its "50 most important websites" since the internet was created.[6] In September 2022, Coolmath Coding[7] was launched to teach kids how to code in Roblox and Minecraft. Rumors began spreading in mid-2020 that Cool Math Games was to shut down in 2020 due to the discontinuation of Adobe Flash Player. In light of these rumors, a petition was created on Change.org to stop it from shutting down and gained 100,000 signatures.[4][8][9][10] Cool Math Games confirms it would not be shutting down and is focusing on getting new HTML5 games converted to HTML5.[11] The website's end-of-life Flash reached its end-of-life in 2020.[5][11] The website opted to use emulation technologies to Ruffle to ensure playing and viewing legacy flash content.[10] During the COVID-19 pandemic, Cool Math Games' popularity increased, having been played by students whilst in lockdown and self-isolating.[11][12] The site's Alexa ranking went up drastically.[13] Coolmath Games has received generally positive reception. The Daily Dot called the website's library of content "impressive" in a run-down of the best games on the site.[14] Fireboy and Watergirl ^ ^ "Coolmathgames.com WHOIS lookup". whois.
